GREATEST OF ALLIED AIR RAIDS REPORTED

PARIS, Feb. 25.—One of the biggest allied air raids yet made against German military works in Belgium was reported from Maestricht, Holland, today.

Bombs were thrown down at Ghent and Bruges and German ammunition dumps were blown up.

GERMANY TRYING TO DRAG SPAIN INTO WORLD WAR

German propaganda in Spain that is seeking to influence Spain against the allies, has been uncovered by allied agents who have forwarded to Washington copies of a pamphlet written by a German officer under the title, "A German Admirer of the Spanish Army."

Germany has promised if Spain will mobilize her armies on the frontiers. The writer eulogizes the Spanish people and her government and brands the Portuguese as "despicable traitors." Mobilization, the German writer says, would impress on the allies the fact that Spain is not unprepared.

Such a course, military men here say, would be a virtual declaration of war against the entente, and would close the frontiers to traffic in military supplies for which the French and American governments have contracted in Madrid.

SWOBODA, POSING AS U.S. MAN, HELD AS SPY

GENEVA, Feb. 25.—Raymond Swoboda, who has been traveling in Europe on a claim that he was an American citizen, but who was twice arrested and subjected to an inquiry in London, has been held as a spy in prison here today charged with espionage, after it was proved that he was a German officer. There are now more than one hundred Austrians and Germans interned here charged with espionage.

SUPPLY UNLEAVENED BREAD.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 25. Inspector General of Railways McAdoo has ordered the placement of fourteen cars in Cleveland for the distribution of unleavened bread, the shortest of which after March 1, there will be no substitute for this bread, measurable under the Hebraic rule.

French Aero After Fall To Street In Paris

No flying machine which has been destroyed since the conquest of the air began, ever fell on more historic ground than the French machine shown in the accompanying photograph, which crashed to earth in the very center of the Place de la Concorde, in Paris, the scene of upward of three thousand executions at the time of the Reign of Terror.

Only a few feet away is the exact spot where, in the dark days of '93, "Doctor Guillotine" took daily toll, first of the unfortunate aristocracy and later of the very revolutionary leaders who called the keen descending knife into play. The French birdman who fell with this plane was instantly killed.

BERKMAN SHOWN LINKED WITH HAR DAYAL, GERMAN SPY

Answering the charge that Alexander Berkman and Emma Goldman, now in prison for violating the draft law, are being persecuted without cause, Attorney General Gregory has made public letters showing that the two anarchists apparently were working in collaboration with German agents in fomenting revolution in a number of countries, notably India.

These incriminatory letters were seized at the printing office of Mother Earth at the time the arrest of Berkman and Emma Goldman was made by the Government. They were written to Berkman by Har Dayal, the German spy, and head of the Hindu plot movement.

In one letter Har Dayal told Berkman, "I need the co-operation of very earnest comrades. Perhaps you can find them in New York, or at Paterson. They should be real fighters. I, W. W. or anarchists. Our Indian party will make all necessary arrangements."

Har Dayal agreed to furnish passports and tickets.

KAISER IS BOUND BY STEEL CHAIN OF HIS OWN FORGING

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 25.—Conceive, if you can, President Wilson as a large stockholder in Bethlehem Steel, the Winchester Arms and the Du Pont powder works.

Pictorial the several large press associations of America subsidized by the steel interests and munition makers of America.

That's the situation in Germany today, former Ambassador James W. Gerard writes in a copyrighted article made public today by the Public Ledger.

Kaiser in Big Business.

In giving an intimate view of the German Emperor, Mr. Gerard says that he is credited with being a large stockholder in both the Krupp works and the Hamburg-American line. He pays tribute to the Emperor's business talents saying that "he would have made a wonderful success as a man of business."

"He ought to be the richest person in the empire," says the former ambassador, "but the military system which he fostered gave that distinction to another. For the richest person in Germany before the war was Frau Krupp-Hollend, daughter of the late manufacturer of cannons. She inherited control of the factories of her father, and was rated at about $75,000,000."

Krupp Earnings Double.

The earnings of the Krupp factories says Mr. Gerard, have doubtless doubled since the beginning of the war. The subscriptions to war loans and war charities, thrown by Frau Krupp-Hollend and the Krupp directors as gifts to public opinion, are mere nothing to the fat earnings made by that renowned factory since the war.

In order to control public opinion, the ambassador writes, the German nation stands by, apathetic, propagandized to a standard, staffed and led by news handed them by the Krupps and an alliance of six great industrial iron and steel companies of western Germany.

Mr. Gerard discusses at length the source of Germany's ultimate power, the controlling factor in the empire's affairs.

General Staff Supreme.

In the general staff, he says, lies the power that controls the destinies of Germany.

"Who decided on the break with America? It was not the chancellor, notoriously opposed; it was not the foreign office, not the Reichstag, not the princes of Germany who decided to brave the consequences of a rupture with the United States. It was the great general staff, who decided upon this step."

The peculiar relations of the Emperor to the general staff make it possible for him to dismiss its head if he is a failure, but "at times the Kaiser is more or less controlled in his action by the staff as a whole, and at a time when the chief of the great general staff is successful, the latter, even on questions of foreign policy, claims the right to make decisions which the Emperor may find it difficult to disregard."

"I do not think the Emperor himself, unless backed by the whole public opinion of Germany, would dare to withstand the great general staff which he himself created. They are so much his devotees that they would overlook him in what they consider his interest."

Hohenollerns Are Talented.

Mr. Gerard recognizes unusual talent not only in the Kaiser but in his sons, of whom he writes "certainly all of the ruling houses of the world, the Hohenollerns have shown themselves the most able, and of the six sons of the Kaiser there is not one who is unable or unworthy, from the autocratic standpoint, to carry on the traditions of the house."

GERMAN PAPERS ADMIT SUCCESS OF ALLIED AIR RAIDS

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 25.—Allied air raids on German towns are being successfully carried on, German papers reaching here admit. During the past week allied machines have dropped bombs on several important enemy positions not previously mentioned in the official reports.

There were three victims of the allied raid on Wehlun on Monday and slight property damage; on Wednesday, last, the town of Pyrmont, Bavaria, was bombed. Several persons were wounded and considerable damage was done to houses.

Early Thursday morning allied planes raided Mannheim and dropped a number of bombs, destroying several houses. The German papers devote much space to proclaiming the fact that a child was killed and a woman and child were injured.

Allied airmen and anti-aircraft guns brought down 292 German and Austrian airplanes during the month of January, says an official report. A German official statement claims the capture or destruction of 101 allied planes. The total number of planes lost in December by both Allied powers and Germans was 234.

REICHSTAG MEMBER DECLARES PEOPLE WILL OUST RULERS

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 25. Dr. Hugo, an independent socialist member in the Reichstag, as reported in the Cologne Volks-Zeitung, made a speech in which he predicted revolution in Germany. "It is not correct to say that the people of Russia's Baltic provinces are longing for German rule," he declared.

"The treaty with Ukraine is not the first step toward general peace. I see the day coming when revolution will reach Germany, and the people will take the fate of their rulers into their own hands. The independent socialists cheered the speaker. From other parts of the house came shouts of 'victory!'"

The Frankfurter Zeitung says the German vice-chancellor, Friedrich von Payer, will address the Reichstag tomorrow in regard to internal affairs.

THERE WERE OTHER HANDS.

Artists. Why is it, Forest Brangely, that when I am with you the hands on that clock seem to take wings and fly? Stern voices (at the head of the stairs)—without warning to be important, young man, I simply want to observe that your hands haven't got nothing on the clock on our gas meter.—Judge.

PRESIDENT HAS U.S. HYPNOTIZED, BARTHELME SAYS

THE HAGUE, Feb. 25.—George Barthelme, former Washington correspondent of the Cologne Gazette, who has been publishing serially in that paper, "My American Sketch Book," has just given a lecture on America in Cologne.

The Gazette calls him the meritorious German historian of the Wilson era and the only German journalist who witnessed the historical and decisive moment in Washington. It says that Barthelme has once again exposed the methods of this enemy, "whom we despise even more than the low rabble in the east."

Barthelme, in his lecture, said that Germany was too respectable or too sleepy to "buy the American press," and that the dollar magnates were bound to England. "As a financial and economic panic menaced America," he asserted, "the apostle of international law in the White House, the fanatic and ultra-moralist, Woodrow Wilson, hypnotized the people."
